

The information below contains a summary of groundwater rights for water suppliers within the Central and West Coast Basins. In addition to their water rights, each pumper may also have available carryover from previous years, stored water, and allowable overextraction (per the terms of their respective Judgment). Water rights are transferable, so in some cases groundwater pumping may be greater than their groundwater rights.

The Water Replenishment District of Southern California also collects and maintains an extensive database of water levels throughout the two basins to help ensure the continued availability of groundwater supplies. This data is made available on the District's web site and in its annual publication of the Engineering Survey and Report and Regional Groundwater Monitoring Report, both of which are available for download at www.wrd.org.
